FACETS OF CASE LAW

- The cases from which the exhaustive annotations in American Law Reports are prepared are carefully presented to accurately reflect the prevailing principles involved. Even as a diamond of many facets projects the light rays that strike it, so the cases in an A.L.R. annotation reflect their light to the mind of an attorney pondering over his problem.
- If full reports of each case cited and discussed in A.L.R. annotations were published in a separate set, they would fill some 3600 volumes of reports.
- If you personally duplicated the cutting and polishing time spent on A.L.R., it would take you over one thousand years. The easy access to over eight hundred thousand reflections of case law in A.L.R. annotations is why attorneys refer to A.L.R. as a library in itself.

STATE STATUTES, REVISIONS, COMPILATIONS, AND CODES

LEWIS W. MORSE

Assistant Professor of Law and Law Librarian, Cornell University

AS A CRAFTSMAN needs his tools, so a law library needs the latest and most usable collection of the statutes of each state. It is a real problem for a law library to fit these into a very limited appropriation. We are often unfamiliar with the opportunities we have at hand in making a purchase in this field. We sometimes refrain from keeping up to date because we do not know of the availability of an inexpensive set. Many collections of state statutes are hopelessly antiquated. It is my opinion that a library is no better than its collection of state statutes, and by that it is not meant that the most expensive sets have to be included. The important thing is to be able to trace a state law up to the very moment that it is to be used.

The following is a list of the various opportunities a law librarian has in all of the states and territories of the United States, and the United States statutes as well. The most inexpensive volumes are listed first; the more expensive volumes and sets follow in the order of their cost. The expense of maintaining each of these sets is also included, since this is an important consideration. I have also included any statement or suggestion that has been made concerning the publication of a new edition, revision, or set.

Shepard's Statute Citation Services have also been included in order to present the cost of other means of locating cases interpreting statutes and references to later amendments, repeals, etc. These services are especially helpful and necessary where the only available statutes are unannotated. They are also used in numerous offices and libraries to supplement annotated statutes, supplements, and pocket parts. The Shepard Services also contain special statute references not elsewhere available, such as citations to laws not included in the compilations of statutes and charters, ordinances and court rules.

I shall appreciate receiving additions, suggestions, and criticisms so that we may include a list of these in a later issue of the LAW LIBRARY JOURNAL.

ALABAMA

The Alabama Code of 1928, 1 volume, with 1936 Cumulative Supplement, 1 volume—2 volumes in all—each of which is annotated, was published by the Michie Company, Charlottesville, Virginia. There will be no replacement volumes and no supplemental service on this set. The cost of this is $50.00.

There is in preparation a new Official Code of Alabama which is being published under the auspices of the state jointly by West Publishing Company of St. Paul, Minnesota; The Harrison Company of Atlanta, Georgia; and The Michie Company. This code is to be in ten volumes thoroughly annotated and indexed, and priced at $67.50 within the State of Alabama. No price has been determined, as yet, on sales outside the state. It will contain the latest school and agricultural codes of Alabama. The Board of Commissioners of the State Bar of Alabama report that the new Alabama Code will probably appear about June, 1941, and will cost between $67.50 and $75.00.

Shepard's * Alabama Citations (Cases and Statutes), $40.00. Cumulative Supplements, per year, $10.00. Includes citations to the Alabama Constitution, Codes, Rules and Acts by Alabama and Federal Courts—also Amendments, Repeals, etc., by subsequent Acts of the Legislature.

ALASKA

A single volume of the Compiled Laws of Alaska, 1933 (official, unannotated), was published by the Daily Alaska Empire of Juneau and may be obtained from the Auditor of Alaska, Juneau, Alaska, at a cost of $15.00. No new compilation is contemplated at present.

Annotations for the Compiled Laws of Alaska, 1939, have been compiled by Davis and Renfrew, attorneys-at-law, Anchorage, Alaska. These are in the form of gummed pages and have been arranged in a pamphlet in the order of the section number in the Compiled Laws of 1933 and in the order of chapters of the Session Laws of 1935, 1937 regular and 1937 special sessions, and 1939 regular session. Each annotation is to be inserted at its respective place in the bound volumes. These bring the laws up to the present time in respect to new legislation, repeals, additions, related matter, etc., and may be obtained at the above address at the price of $5.00. A new pamphlet is expected to be published later this year which will cover the 1941 session. The price of this will be determined later.

ARIZONA

The Arizona Code, Annotated, Official Edition, 6 volumes, 1939, with annotations to July 1, 1940, is published by The Bobbs-Merrill Company, Indianapolis, Indiana. If any replacement volumes are necessary, there will be a charge, the amount to be determined by the number of changes and size of the volume.

These are three separate volumes containing the Code of Civil Procedure and the Probate Codes, the Civil Code, and the Political Code. There is a pocket in the back of each volume for supplements. References are made to McKinney's California Digest, California Jurisprudence, and Ruling Case Laws. Pocket parts were published for each volume covering the statutes enacted by the 1939 Legislature. These three codes and the latest pocket parts in one order sell for $7.50. The 1941 California Legislature has convened, and presumably a new set of pocket parts will appear this year.

Chase Law Book Company, 548 Castro Street, San Francisco, California, publishes the 1941 Chase California Codes—Civil, Civil Procedure, Probate and Penal Codes—"3 in 1" volume containing the Consolidated Indices to all the California Codes, General Laws, and Constitution. The pre-publication price is $9.00, less $1.50 if check accompanies order. After each session of the Legislature a new set of Chase California Codes is usually published, and one will appear after the 1941 session of the Legislature. Chase Law Book Company also publishes the 1941 Chase California Codes—Civil, Civil Procedure, Probate and Penal Codes—in three separate volumes. The price of these three volumes is $12.50, less $1.50 if check accompanies the order.

This set is kept up to date by bound supplements published after each session of the legislature. The last supplement was issued in 1939. Another is contemplated in 1941 which, no doubt, will be a consolidated supplement including that of 1939.

The Bender-Moss Company, 91 McAllister Street, San Francisco, California, published Kerr's Cyc Codes and Henning's General Laws, 11 volumes, annotated, 1920, with bound biennial supplements, the last of which was published in 1935, and subsequent annual bound volumes of Code Annotations, the last of which appeared in 1939. A complete set cost $200.00, but this set has been withdrawn from sale.

The Bancroft-Whitney Company has a new Annotated Code for California in preparation but does not expect to make any announcement of it until some time in the future.

The editorial work on the Colorado Statutes Annotated is done entirely by The Michie Company and the printing and binding by the Bradford-Robinson Company of Denver, Colorado. Bradford-Robinson Company has exclusive sale of this set within the State of Colorado and The Michie Company has exclusive sale everywhere but the State of Colorado.

The Courtright's Mills Colorado Statutes Annotated were published in 1930 and sold for $80.00 then. They have not been kept up to date. The publishers are Courtright Publishing Company, 1609 Court Place, Denver, Colorado.

Colorado Code of Civil Procedure, Annotated, 1 volume, 1933, $25.00, was published by the Courtright Publishing Company, 1609 Court Place, Denver, Colorado, but the set has not been kept up to date.

There is a possibility that a new code may be brought out within the next year or two, making it adaptable to Federal Practice Rules. The 1941 Legislature is expected to take some action on this.

Libraries are allowed a ten per cent discount by the Courtright Publishing Company if a check accompanies the order for their publications.

FLORIDA

The Compiled General Laws of Florida were published by the Harrison Company, Atlanta, Georgia, in 6 volumes in 1927. There was published in 1936 a Permanent Supplement in 6 volumes, covering 1927 through 1935. It was the intention to keep this set up to date with pocket parts. The parts, however, bulked so much it was not possible to put them in the pockets. In 1938 pocket parts were issued, but in 1940 it was necessary to issue the cumulated 1938 and 1940 parts in one bound volume. The price of this set complete, including the 1940 parts, is $175.00 and may be obtained from the Harrison Company, 151 Spring Street, N. W., Atlanta, Georgia.

The last official Code of the State of Georgia is that of 1933, one volume, published by the Harrison Company, 151 Spring Street, N. W., Atlanta, Georgia, at a cost of $22.50. Supplements are not issued to this Code. The Code is inclusive of the Laws of 1933 and may be brought up to date by purchasing a volume of the 1935 Georgia Acts and the 1939 Pocket Parts to the Annotated Code for $20.00 which contain a codification of the laws from 1935 through 1939. New parts will be issued after the adjournment of the 1941 Legislature.

The Code of Georgia Annotated, 1933, 34 books, is kept up to date with cumulative pocket parts issued after each regular biennial session of the Legislature. The price of the complete set, including the 1939 parts (which are the current parts), is $290.00 from the Harrison Company. There is no fixed price on the upkeep service. It will probably cost in the neighborhood of $10.00 or $15.00 a year, or $20.00 to $30.00 every two years. There is no arrangement about replacement volumes. If replacement volumes are necessary, they will cost extra.

Shepard's Georgia Citations (Cases and Statutes), $35.00. Cumulative Supplements, per year, $12.00. The Courtright Publishing Company, 1609 Court Place, Denver, Colorado, has announced the publication of a 1940 Supplement to the 1932 Idaho Codes Annotated, for $35.00 on delivery of the volume. A ten per cent discount is allowed if cash accompanies the order. This company plans to publish a continuous Supplemental Service annually at the cost of $6.00 on delivery of the annual supplement.

It is proposed to submit to the General Assembly, convened in January, 1942, a volume containing a text of the statutes as revised with a complete history of the reviser's notes. CURRENT COMMENTS

1941 Handbook of National Conference of Judicial Councils Ready for Distribution

THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF JUDICIAL COUNCILS, as has been its custom, will release its Annual Handbook about the 15th of May. The Handbook this year will be greatly enhanced in value by the inclusion of an excellent bibliography on the new Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. This is one of the most complete and best arranged bibliographies yet prepared on the new Federal Rules, and was compiled under the supervision of Mr. B. B. Druker, librarian of the Iowa State Law Library. Mr. Druker was assisted by Mr. Stanley L. West, law librarian of the University of Pittsburgh; Mr. Vernon M. Smith, law librarian of the University of California; Mr. Hobart R. Coffey, law librarian of the University of Michigan; Mr. Philip G. Marshall, law librarian of the University of Wisconsin; Mr. William B. Stern, head cataloger of the Los Angeles County Law Library; and Mr. Layton B. Register, librarian of the Biddle Law Library of the University of Pennsylvania. This is the first general Bibliography dealing with judicial administration as a special field of knowledge to be published since 1917, and it is hoped that it will be an incentive to the adoption in the various states of the advantages to be found in the new Federal practice.

The Handbook will also contain a continuation of the Judicial Council Bibliography prepared by Miss B. Margaret Johnson; a supplemental report on the study of traffic courts by George Warren, Esq.; a report on further publications of the National Conference by Roscoe Pound, Esq.; a discussion of the future of Judicial Councils by the Honorable Edward R. Finch, chairman of the National Conference; a model act for the establishment of a judicial council; and the usual detailed information about the councils.

Heretofore it has been the custom of the National Conference to supply copies of the Handbook, free of charge, to all the law libraries, and to many of the larger public libraries throughout the country, as well as to individuals having a special interest in the work of the Conference. This year, however, the budget of the Council does not allow free distribution of the 1941 volume, and it is necessary to ask the nominal price of $2.00 for Vol. III of the Annual Handbook. Orders may be placed now for this volume, and should be sent to Paul B. DeWitt, 1216 Southern Surety Building, Des Moines, Iowa.

Of special interest is the group meeting on legislative reference scheduled for the Wednesday afternoon, June 18th, session. Dr. Ernest S. Griffith, director of the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, will be the principal speaker. His address will be followed by a Panel Discussion led by Miss Rebecca Rankin, Municipal Reference Library, New York, the Honorable William T. Byrne, Congressman from the 28th District, New York, and Grace M. Sherwood, State Librarian of Rhode Island.

C., and formerly legislative reference librarian of the Social Security Board, is now librarian of the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. Miss Lee, recognized as one of the most capable of the younger librarians in government service, is making an enviable record of achievement in both library and association work.

Inter-American Bar Association Recommends Establishment of Law Libraries

THE FIRST CONFERENCE OF THE INTER-AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION which convened at Havana, Cuba, March 24th, 1941, adopted 22 resolutions including one of special interest to law librarians. This resolution, passed in connection with other resolutions on the Adoption of Advanced Standards of Legal Ethics, reads as follows: "To recommend to the member bar associations and, where no bar association exists, the judicial authorities of the respective country, to create law libraries for the use of those persons entrusted with the administration of justice and for the use of the legal profession."

More than 600 lawyers, representing 45 associations in North and South America, attended the conference. Among the distinguished members of the bar who participated in the conference was John T. Vance, law librarian of Congress, and a past president of the American Association of Law Libraries.

As chairman of the delegation representing the Section of International and Comparative Law of the American Bar Association, Mr. Vance urged that "The documentation of the law be conserved by modern methods." He suggested that national centers of legal documentation be established in all countries which are, or are going to become, members of the Inter-American Bar Association.

Professor Gray Addresses Law Library Association of Greater New York

THE LAW LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF GREATER NEW YORK held a dinner meeting at the Hotel Collingwood in New York City on April 7th, with Raymond C. Lindquist, librarian of the New York Law Institute and president of the Association, presiding. Professor Herman A. Gray, member of the faculty of New York University Law School, was the guest speaker. Professor Gray, a practicing lawyer in New York since 1922, a specialist in such subjects as constitutional and labor law, and chairman of the New York State Unemployment Insurance Advisory Council, addressed the Association on "Trends in Administrative Law." He advocated the separation of administrative and judicial functions of quasi-judicial administrative agencies and opposed unlimited court review of administrative decisions. He suggested that if such court review is to be competent, a special court equipped to deal with the issues involved might be the solution.

In order to make the Law Library Association of Greater New York as useful as possible to its individual members, an Information Committee has been set up to answer or investigate library queries and problems referred to it by the members. Each member is urged to write or telephone to the committee at the time the problem occurs. In cases where the answer cannot be given readily, or where various opinions are desirable, the chairman of the committee will bring up the matter for general discussion at the next meeting of the Association. A record of questions and answers will be kept, and it is hoped that in time a reference manual may be compiled from this information. The committee is composed of Mr. Lawrence H. Schmehl of the New York County Lawyers' Association, chairman, Mr. Sidney B. Hill of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, and Miss Margaret E. Hall of the Columbia University Law Library.

MEMORIAL TO ARTHUR SUMNER McDANIEL

ARTHUR SUMNER McDANIEL, assistant librarian of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, died at his home in New York City on March 25, 1941, following a brief illness. Born at Exeter, New Hampshire, on October 17, 1875, Mr. McDaniel graduated from Harvard University in 1898 and began his library career in the Harvard College Library.

He was appointed to the staff of the Association of the Bar on March 1, 1902, and throughout his many years of competent and faithful service to the library he contributed generously of his time and wisdom to Association work. From 1929 to 1931 Mr. McDaniel was Secretary-Treasurer of the American Association of Law Libraries and Editor of the LAW LIBRARY JOURNAL. Prior to that time and until his death he served on a number of important Association committees. He was active in formulating and advising in the reorganization plans of the American Library Association and at the time of his death was chairman of the Joint Committee on Cooperation between the American Library Association and the American Association of Law Libraries. He was also a member of the A. L. A. Committee on National Defense and the Union List of Periodicals Committee of the Law Library Association of Greater New York.

In the death of Arthur Sumner McDaniel the library profession has lost an able, distinguished and beloved colleague. His associates in New York have paid this tribute to him, "In his passing our organization has lost one of its most capable as well as most friendly and cooperative members. . . . The spirit of fellowship fostered by Mr. McDaniel will long remain to cheer and guide us as we go about our various duties and, most particularly, when we meet together as the Law Library Association of Greater New York."

BOOK NOTE

O. A. Roorbach's Biblioteca Americana ("Catalogue of American Publications . . . 1820 to 1852 . . .") was reprinted in 1939 by P. Smith, of New York. Originally, the book was published as a "manual of reference for the trade." On pages 606-635 there is a list of the law books available in the fifties, together with the names of the publishers and prices. On pages 636-643, American reports, statutes, and digests are listed.

Although American law books which were available about that time have been listed and were briefly commented upon, in J. G. Marvin's Legal Bibliography of American, English, Irish, and Scotch Law Books (1847), Roorbach's catalog is of value to us for its indication of the retail prices.

Law books were relatively expensive even at that time. Volume 1 of the California Reports cost $10.00; so did the first volume of the California Statutes. Blackstone's Commentaries were available in the Christian-Archbold-Chitty edition for $4.50, and with Wendell's Notes for $7.00. Coke's First Institute cost $12.00, and Kent's Commentaries $14.00. Chitty on Bills of Exchange is listed at $5.00, and Story on the Constitution at $12.00. Monographs of apparently less appeal to the legal public sold at lower prices.

Typical for the time of publication is the inclusion of civil law books and of treatises famous for their natural law content in this commercial catalog, such as books by Burlamaqui, Bynkershoek, Montesquieu, Pothier, the Code Napoleon, Justinian's Institutes, etc.

If we compare Roorbach's catalog with Marvin's bibliography, Roorbach's list shows up to advantage in one respect. Marvin compiled his data primarily for the use of the research student. Size and arrangement of this bibliography are not favorable to a quick analysis of the American imprints. Roorbach gave his list a commercial make-up, and the clear arrangement of this catalog gives prima facie proof of the astonishingly large number of American law books of all kind which were available at that time.

A PAGE FROM THE EDITOR'S LETTER BOOK

March 10, 1941

Dear Miss Newman:

I am sending you in this letter the facts in an interesting series of incidents which has just been completed. You may recall that in the year 1937 I read a paper before the annual meeting of the American Association of Law Libraries entitled "Odor of Sanctity".¹ In this article I described our Founders' Collection. One of the founders was Samuel J. Hitchcock, whose personally owned law library was purchased to form the nucleus of the Yale Law Library. I also described our Blackstone Collection and later we published in our Yale Law Library Publications a bibliographical list of the Blackstone Collection. Mr. A. Mercer Daniel, Law Librarian of Howard University, discovered that he had in his possession a copy of the first volume of Blackstone's Commentaries published in New York in 1827, which was lacking from our Blackstone Collection and which also contained the signature of Samuel J. Hitchcock. Mr. Daniel had purchased this book in a second-hand bookshop in Washington when he was a student there in 1908. Last week he visited our library and very generously brought this volume along and presented it to the Yale Law Library. It will now be placed in our Blackstone Collection and will be listed also as one of the books which properly could be placed in our Founders' Collection.

With best regards,

Sincerely yours,

FREDERICK C. HICKS,
Librarian, Yale Law School Library.
